

Armchair

User Guide

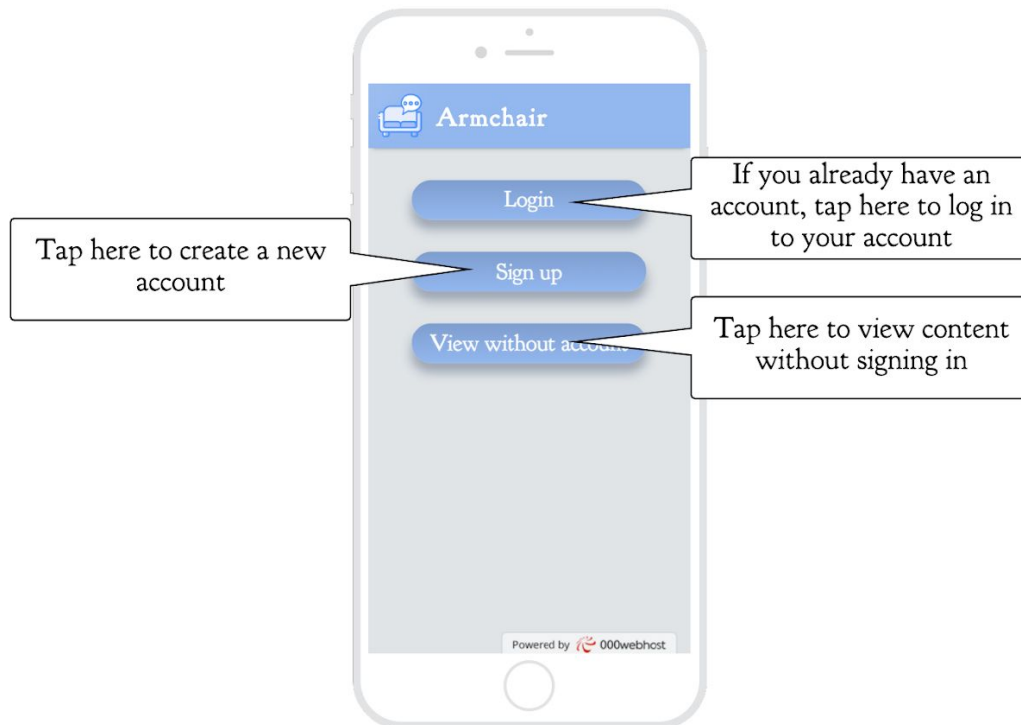

Ella Wells
Brianna Sheagley
Ian Baxter

Table of Contents

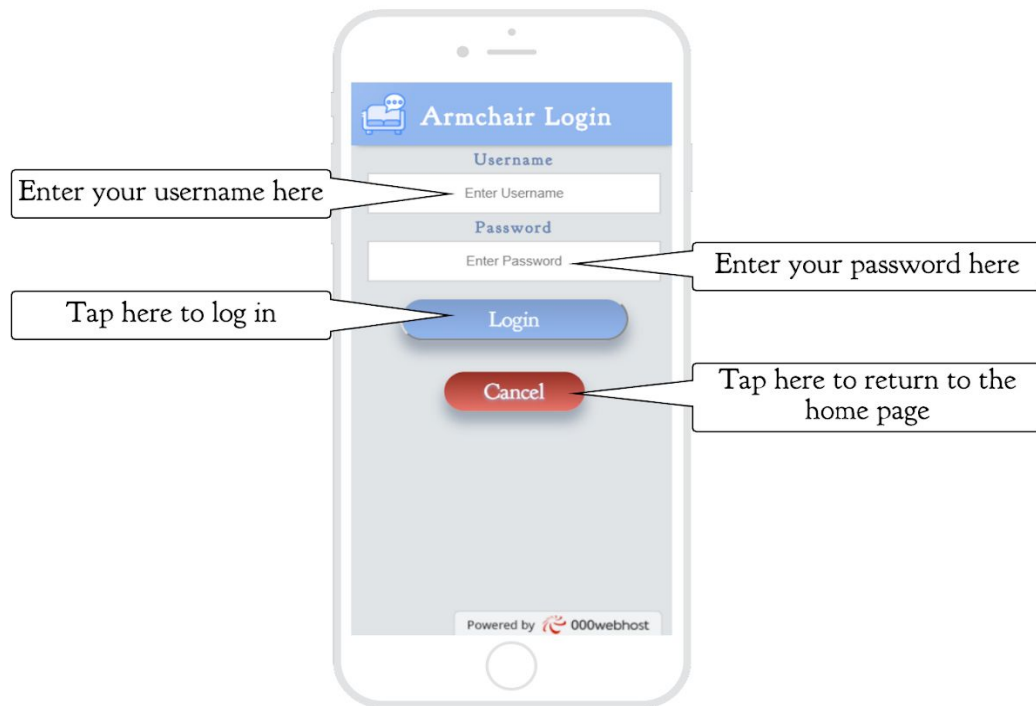

1. Home
2. Login
3. Signup
4. Profile
5. Navigation Menu
6. Settings
7. Change Password
8. Change Email
9. Delete Account
10. Shows/Books
11. Show/Book
12. Discussion Thread
13. Likes

i. Home

The landing page consists of 3 buttons. The Login button takes you to the login page to log in to an account. The Sign up button takes you to the signup page, where you can create a new account. The View without account button takes you to view episode discussion boards without signing in. Without an account, you can view information about books and tv shows, and see comments that viewers have posted, broken down by episode or chapter. You need to sign in to post comments, reply to comments, or like comments.

2. Login

The login page has boxes to enter your username and password. After you enter your login information, tap the login button to get to your profile page in your account. Tap the cancel button to go back to the home page.

3. Sign up

The image shows a mobile app interface for signing up. The screen is titled "Sign up for Armchair" with a small icon of a chair. Below the title, there are four input fields: "Enter your email:", "Create a username:", "Create a password:", and "Re-enter your password:". Each field has a corresponding callout box with instructions. At the bottom, there are two buttons: "Create Account" (blue) and "Cancel" (red). A footer at the bottom right says "Powered by 000webhost".

Enter your email address here

Enter a unique username here

Enter a password here

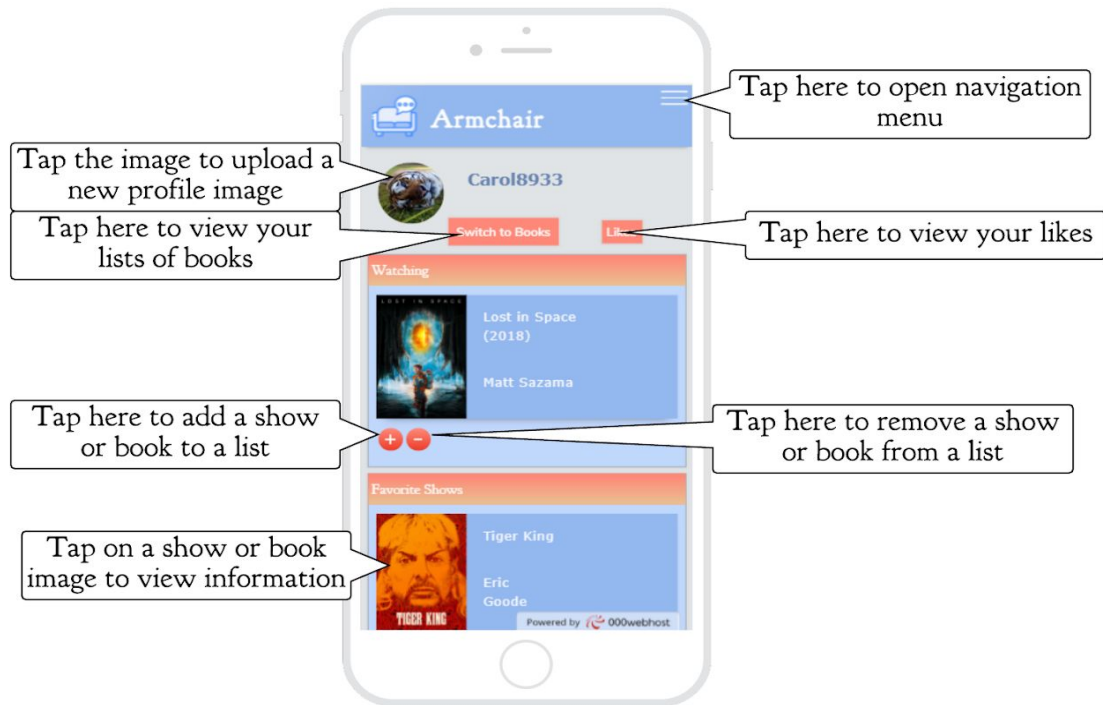

Re-type your password here

Tap here to create your new account

Tap here to return to the home page

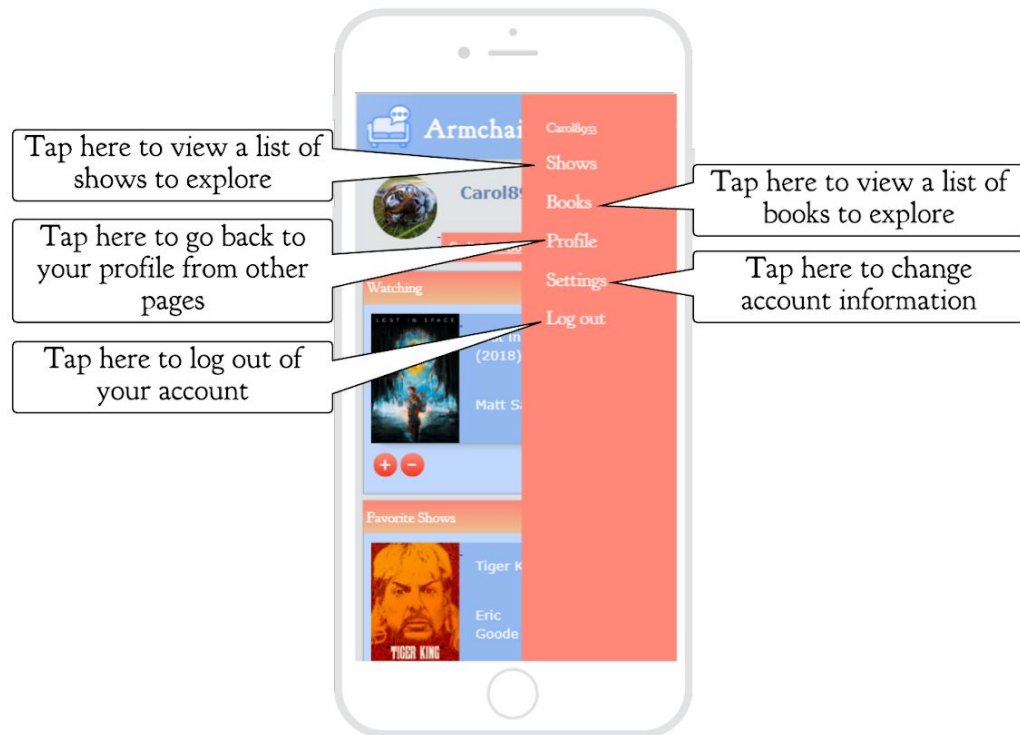

The signup page has boxes to enter information for your new account. Enter your email in the first box. In the second box, create a password that is unique to you. In the third box, create a password. The password must have at least 1 uppercase letter, at least 1 lowercase letter, at least 1 number, and between 8 and 16 characters. A pop-up message will appear while you type in the new password. The message shows the password requirements in red text with an ✖ in front of each, and the text turns green with a ✔ in front when the requirement is satisfied. Tap anywhere outside of the text entry box to close the message. Retype your password in the fourth box to ensure you typed the password correctly. Tap the Create Account button to create your new account and go to the profile page. Tap the cancel button to go back to the home page.

4. Profile

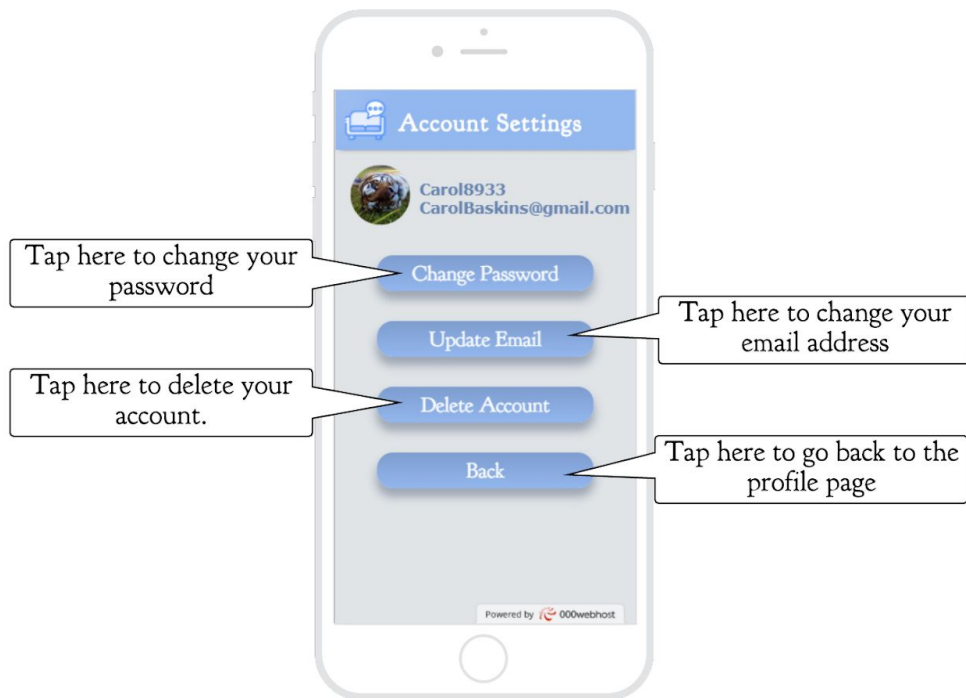

The profile page has many features. Tap the 3 horizontal lines at the top right corner to open the navigation menu. At the top of the page, your profile picture and username are displayed. Tap the profile picture image to upload a new picture. The page defaults to displaying lists of shows. The button called Switch to Books changes the lists on the page over to books. The like button displays comments you have liked. In each list section on the page, you will see images of shows or books along with basic information. Tap on the + or - circular buttons to add or delete from these lists. Tap on the images to see more detailed information and view discussion threads.

5. Navigation Menu

The navigation menu has 5 options. Tap on Shows to view a page that displays a list of shows you can comment on. Tap on Books to view a page that displays a list of books you can comment on. Tap on Profile to go to your profile page when you are on another page. Tap on Settings to change account information. Tap on Log out to log out of your account.

6. Settings

The Settings page has options to change your password, update your email address, or delete your account. Tap the Change Password button to change your account's password. Tap the Update email button to change the email saved for your account. Tap the Delete Account button to permanently delete your account. Tap the Back button to return to the profile page.

7. Change Password

The diagram shows a mobile app interface for changing a password. The screen has a blue header with a wrench icon and the text 'Change Password'. Below the header, a user profile is shown with a globe icon, the username 'Carol8933', and the email 'CarolBaskins@gmail.com'. The form consists of three sections: 'Current Password' with a text input field labeled 'Enter Current Password'; 'Create a new password:' with a text input field labeled 'Enter New Password'; and 'Reenter new password' with a text input field labeled 'Enter new password'. At the bottom of the form are two buttons: a blue 'Change Password' button and a red 'Cancel' button. Five callout boxes provide instructions: 'Enter your existing password here' points to the 'Current Password' field; 'Enter a new password here' points to the 'Enter New Password' field; 'Re-type your password here' points to the 'Enter new password' field; 'Tap here to save the new password' points to the 'Change Password' button; and 'Tap here to go back to Settings' points to the 'Cancel' button. A footer at the bottom of the screen reads 'Powered by 000webhost'.

The Change Password page allows you to change your account's password. You must first enter your existing password. Then, enter a new password and retype it to confirm. The password must have at least 1 uppercase letter, at least 1 lowercase letter, at least 1 number, and between 8 and 16 characters. A pop-up message will appear while you type in the new password. The message shows the password requirements in red text with an ✖ in front of each, and the text turns green with a ✔ in front when the requirement is satisfied. Tap anywhere outside of the text entry box to close the message. Tap the Change Password button to save your new password. Tap the Cancel button to go back to Settings.

8. Change Email

The image shows a smartphone screen with a 'Change Email' form. The form has a blue header with a user icon and the text 'Change Email'. Below the header, the user's name 'Carol8933' and email 'CarolBaskins@gmail.com' are displayed. The form contains three input fields: 'Current Password', 'Enter your new email', and 'Confirm email'. Each field has a corresponding callout box with instructions. At the bottom of the form are two buttons: 'Change Email' (blue) and 'Cancel' (red). A callout box points to the 'Change Email' button with the instruction 'Tap here to save your new email'. Another callout box points to the 'Cancel' button with the instruction 'Tap here to go back to Settings'. The footer of the screen says 'Powered by 000webhost'.

Enter your existing password here

Enter your new email here

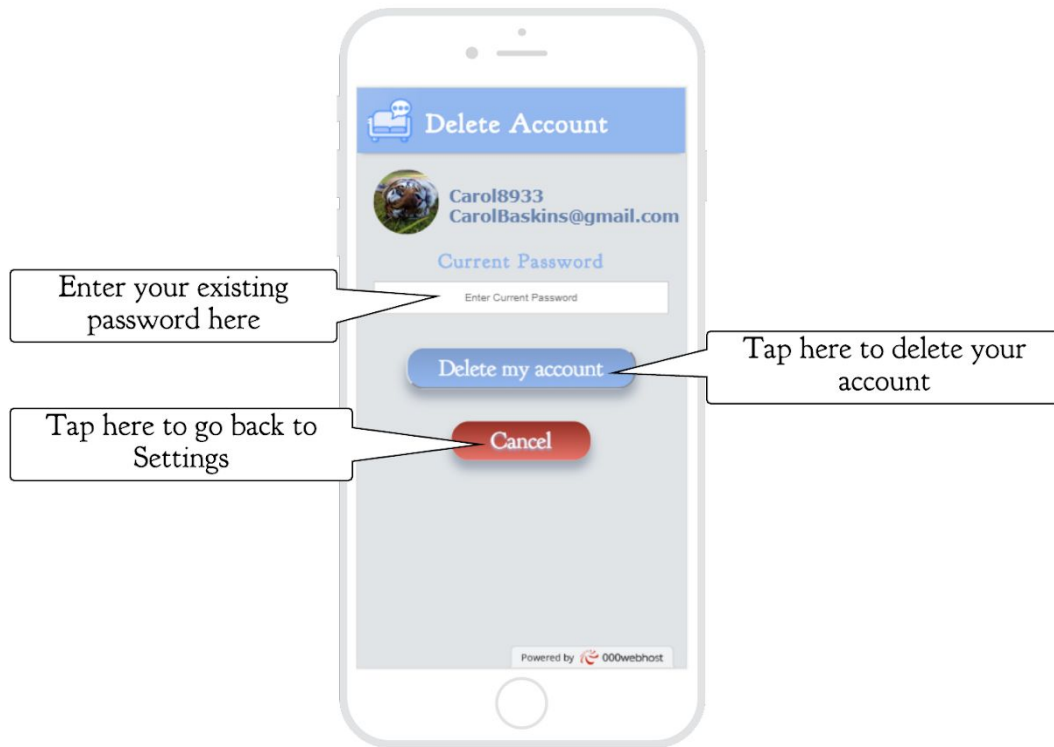

Re-type your new email here

Tap here to save your new email

Tap here to go back to Settings

The Change Email page allows you to change your account's email. You must first enter your existing password. Then, enter a new email and retype it to confirm. Tap the Change Email button to save your new email. Tap the Cancel button to go back to Settings.

9. Delete Account

If you decide you no longer want your account, you can permanently delete it from the Delete Account page. Enter your password, then tap the Delete Account button to permanently delete your account. Tap the Cancel button to go back to Settings.

10. Shows/Books

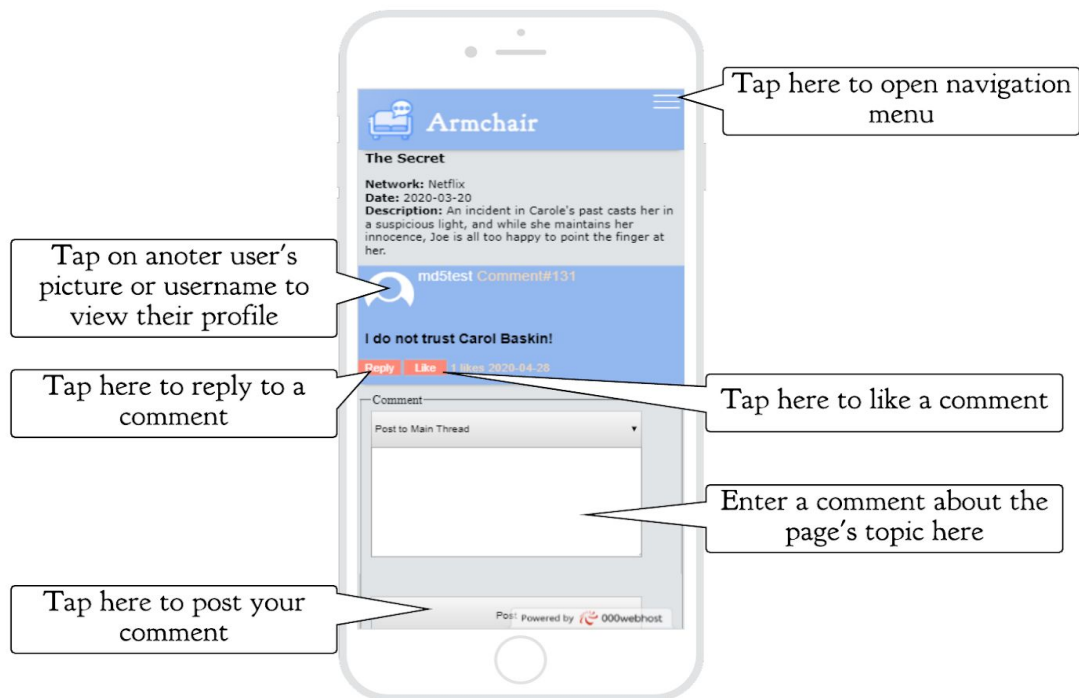

The books and shows pages look and function in the same way. Tap the 3 horizontal lines at the top right corner to open the navigation menu. At the top of the page, a search bar allows you to enter the name of a book or show and filter the displayed list. The list on the page displays titles of books or shows that you can tap on to open a page with more information on the title and a list of discussion threads.

II. Show/Book

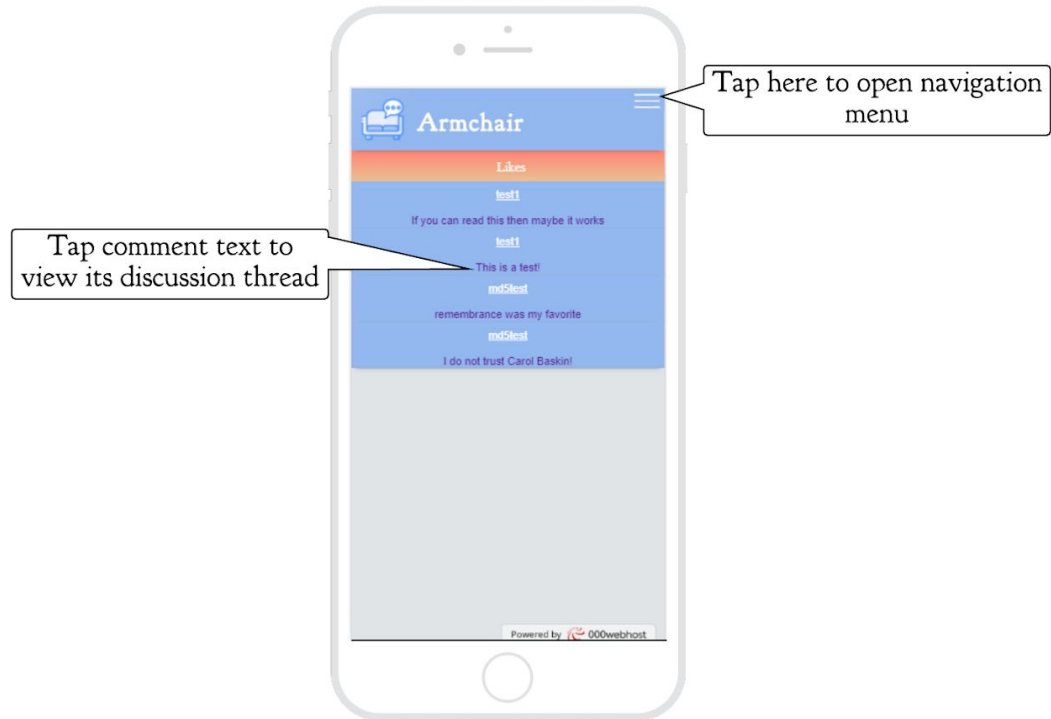

The book and show pages look and function in the same way. Tap the 3 horizontal lines at the top right corner to open the navigation menu. At the top of the page, information about the book or show is displayed. A search bar allows you to enter the name of a book or show and filter the displayed list. The list on the page displays titles of chapters or episodes that you can tap on to open a discussion thread.

12. Discussion Thread

A Discussion Thread page displays comments about a chapter or episode. Tap the 3 horizontal lines at the top right corner to open the navigation menu. At the top of the page, information about the book or show is displayed. Each comment shows the picture and username who posted it, the comment number, the date posted, the number of likes, along with reply and like buttons. Tap the Reply button to respond to a comment. Tap the like button to add a like to the comment. Scroll down to the bottom of the page to see a comment box. Type in this comment box and tap Post to add a new comment to the main discussion.

13. Likes

A Likes page displays a list of all of the comments you have liked. Tap the 3 horizontal lines at the top right corner to open the navigation menu. Tap on the comment text on any comment in the list to go to the discussion thread page that the comment is on.